

Y4 Press Day:

Year 4 spent the whole of Tuesday 10th October working as journalists for The Fairytale Times. Everyone had to put on their NUJ Pass before being allowed to enter the offices.

The first duty of the editors, Libby and Koby, was to each appoint a deputy (Alex and Abigail) and then they set their workers the task of producing the front page by the end of the day. The main story was the recent arrest of a ten year old girl, Goldilocks Smith, and the journalists got straight to work.

The staff canteen, which served hot chocolate and biscuits, was a popular place to take a break, but editors and deputies ensured no one spent too long slacking!

Journalists worked hard to turn in their stories on time and at the end of the day, the editorial team met to decide on pay rates.

The recommended daily rate is £50 but some staff had their pay docked for taking too many breaks and some received a bonus for their outstanding work!
